

Why MaxPreps?

- It's free!
- It's easy!
- It can be delegated!
- It will improve communications!
- Great coach participation, better the results!

MaxPreps is a national high school sports media outlet covering high school sports locally. Our objective is serve coaches by providing the means to efficiently report schedules, scores, and statistics. MaxPreps has over 11,000 participating coaches.

It's Free

The services MaxPreps provides (described at right) are free to coaches. MaxPreps is supported by national and corporate advertisers including Nike, Adidas, the US Army National Guard and T-Mobile.

It's Easy

MaxPreps is easy to use. The web site walks you through entering your roster, scores, offensive, defensive and special teams stats (you are not required to enter information in all categories, i.e. if you don't keep special teams stats; you don't need to enter them.). With a computer and Internet access, anyone you designate (statistician, assistant coach, player, parent) can enter the information. It takes about 10-15 minutes.

It will improve your communications

Parents, players, college coaches, your college roommate in Tasmania all can view your team's scores, team and individual stats, league standings, highlight videos, and photographs. Media can be designated by you to receive post game reports automatically.

Greater coach participation, better the results

MaxPreps' services increase in value with the number of schools that participate. Conference and league reports, useful for choosing All Conference and All League teams, are most beneficial if they include stats from each school in the conference or league. Statewide reports, tools that may be used in choosing All Star and All State teams, are more valuable if every school in the state has entered their stats into the MaxPreps system.
